

of the Democratic party o

of the Democratic party o

3, 1855.

Rebels.
REVISED. October, 1855. Boston:
Co. For sale by Frank Taylor,
Washington, D. C.
American, as usual, contains articles, on subjects of current interest. We must, however, dissent from the author's dissertation on "the Diplo-

logical for the pages of th

Decidedly pro-Russian and ilter labors under the illu ily exempt from any prej devoted does he become t a, that he can scarcely ad ily any great reverses; and the middle of August, h elusion that the Allies are before Sebastopol. What ous specimen of the over ou with which some of ou of the events of the East ber of the Review in whic appear, would be out in O observed that he assum raised before that time.
 ings against Sebastopol

...become historical as a operation the world has seen failed in the hands of some s of the age. * * * in insult to the common sense have proposed originally s over thousand men to take r. At the same time, it and that the fatal habit of over in military prowess, and age, skill, and resources contributed largely to the dis a of the siege." "I sight remembered, he add in the middle of August, b and anything to make this e
."

that we are unable to communicate the name of this infallible authority, like one of our brigs say that it is only the soul that has been taken, and that much as it was only a ho-

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION
London. New York: Robert C. ...
... sale by Gray & Ballantyne, ...
... D. C.

the preface that the annu-
... of which this volume co-
... delivered in 1854-'55, has b... ar in London, the most dhaving been laid under co the most interesting in the volume, we note, "Constantinople and the 'Ragged Schools,'" "Columbian Discoveries and Inventions," "FREEDOM." By Frederick Douglass. Boston: Miller, Orton, & Mulligan. 1852. Whether this book is in fact or not, but it ought to be read by such a man as Douglass. To set up a slave, now one of the most frequent advocates of the right, is a rare interest. It is a policy and strength, and when we have a clearer view of the "truth," every, and strengthen oppo-

ENGLISH LANGUAGE. By Joseph Boston: Hickling, Swan, & Broth-ham, Pennsylvania avenue, Wa-as much practical information use comprised in this new can well be imagined. It nouncing, explanatory, and onary, giving also the pronunciation of the Greek, Latin, and Scripture pronunciation of the names, and the pronunciation of modern es; abbreviations used ing; phrases and quotations Italian, and Spanish; and nd heroes in Greek and

ory. It is an admirable bo amilies—in fact, a most sa of necessary knowledge principles of pronunciation sted and the definitions

R. Shelton Mackenzie. New York by Franck Taylor, Pennsylvania U. D. C.

is in his preface that the book sents and purposes, contain to him in his youth; stories ; recollections of eccentric sketches of the two great Irish who won National Independence and O'CConnell, who secured most of his countrymen. The are pleasant, but the spirit of the book is not. Mr. O'Connell is the best of us.

from authors not acce united by a thread of n hook an American view. I think of our countrymen abroad in Russia and Turkey, and I join Mr. Dix in regard to going on, as one between Christians. It would seem, however, that the regular Crusader—he writes under the Hermit. The Tu quite a bugle blast, but we were able to rally a very large force. The pernicious heresy of the day, that human nature was depraved, and that men had no rights, no matter what their religion was, had gained too much influence to be easily brushed aside. I tried to remind, to allow Christian nations to exterminate war against the Pagans.

SLAVE CASE.—Philadelphia.—A petition was made in the United States Court to-day, on the part of the former slave of Colonel Williams of Carolina, asking that the writ be issued to Passmore Williams and his children into court, may be heard by M. Read, for the petitioners. The petition was filed, contending that the writ corpus must always be issued in favor of the party whose liberty is at stake, for a party wishing to restrain the argument was completely defeated.

